Newport Sunrise Rotary Octoberfest

President Reniero Francisco reported that he spoke to Tammy McKennon. She reported that her husband is recovering from bypass surgery, the reason he was not in attendance on Sunday. The Octoberfest/lawn bowling party was well attended, the food was great, and fun was had by all. Please keep Jim McKennon in your thoughts and prayers.

Recognitions and Happy Dollars

Fine Master today was John Hedlund. He immediately volunteered $50 Happy Dollars in recognition of meeting Virginia at a USO dance.

David Bahnsen

David Bahnsen paid $100 for 100 Senators plus $100 USC's win. Dan Korpman was asked to contribute Happy Dollars for his "advertisements"! He graciously matched David Bahnsen's fines. Tom Jackson celebrated a birthday on October 12th and told us about his recent trip to New Mexico. He paid $100.

Unlocking Potential Through Literacy

Amy Tan

Cynthia Cowell introduced Amy Tan, who has been with the Newport Beach Library Literacy Program since 2008. Amy is a graduate of UCI and Vice President of the program. Did you know that the United States' current generation is less educated than the previous generation.

Literacy Services provides free literacy instruction to adults who live or work in the Newport Beach area. Our dedicated volunteers have helped hundreds of people improve their English skills. In doing so, these volunteers have helped change lives. Literacy is a concern for everyone in our community as it affects not only the learner, but employers, healthcare providers, schools and more.

For many in our population, English is their second language. All second language learners benefit from learning better English skills. Job opportunities improve with English proficiency, children perform better in school if their parents are able to help them and healthcare providers can more easily care for their patient if they are proficient in English. NBPL Literacy Services is dedicated to achieving literacy for all members of our society. Literacy does change lives! Literacy is the gift that keeps on giving.

A book will be donated to Newport Beach Library in the name of Amy Tan.

Raffle Prize

Cynthia Cowell was today's winner but there were no cards so she will draw next week.
